³ In Barkwell's Veterans and Families of the 1885 Resistance, 2009, Joséphte Ouellette is erroneously listed as spouse of Thomas Petit dit Thomas (34), she is his mother and she is married to Thomas Petit dit Thomas, his father, who was not among the Patriots...

⁴ The records for Joseph "Assiyiwin" Trottier are confusing...: for example, in "People of the Métis Nation," Barkwell has both Joseph Trottier Sr. (1828-1885) and Joseph "Assiyiwin" Trottier Jr. (d. 1885) married to Julie La Grosse (Grossiterre)! Note: Two different men: "Assiyiwin" was murdered by "Gentleman" Joe McKay in the first shots of the Canadian Invasion of the North-West Territories and Joseph Trottier Sr. died in the final Battle of Batoché. Furthermore, in other documents, Joseph Trottier Jr. (m. Julie Grossiterre) is otherwise listed as being born in 1858...

Ten Child-Soldiers

Ten Métis child-soldiers are known to have fought alongside their older brothers and sisters and cousins in the 1885 Resistance. The youngest Métis child-soldier on record at Batoché is Alexander Flammand from Boggy Creek. Others such as Patrice Henry cared for the horses during the battles. Isidore Ledoux, a member of the Petequaquey Band, was on the west side of the river during the Battle of Batoché. Patrice Tobie Lépine fought with the men at li Coulée des Tourond's and Batoché. And Joseph Octave Nolin Jr. was arrested at "the Point"! along with his father. These are in stark contrast to those men which had to be conscripted or otherwise compelled to fight and the hundreds of other children which took no part in the fighting.

Jean-Baptiste Arcand (15) son of Francois Regis and Philomène (née Bérard) Arcand
Patrice Caron (15) son of Jean père and Marguerite (née Dumas) Caron Alexander Flammand* (7) son of Louison and Joséphite (née Belhumeur) Flammand
Patrice Henry (13) son of Patriots Pierre and Caroline (née Beauchemin) Honoré dit

Patrice Jobin† (17) son of Ambroise and Marguerite (née Mandeville) Jobin père
Isidore Lafond (12) son of Lafond and unknown
Alexandré Lafournaise (16) son of Patriots Gabriel and Louise (née Landry) Lafournaise dit Laboucane
Isidore Ledoux (12)‡ son of Ledoux and unknown
Patrice Tobie Lépine (16/17) son of Patriots Maxime père and Joséphite (née Lavallée)
 Lépine
Joseph Octave Nolin Jr. (17) son of Joseph Nolin Sr. and Marie-Anne Gaudry (deceased)

* Alexander Flammand is not listed among the Children of the Resistance.

† Patrice Jobin is not listed among the Children of the Resistance.

‡ Barkwell lists Isidore Ledoux (b. 1873) as eleven years old in The People of the Métis Nation, 2012; but genealogical records contend that Isidore Ledoux son of Joseph "Toomahtoon" Ledoux and Isabelle Bélangier was born in 1880 - making him age fifteen yrs.
